Copy of letter No.256/34-B., dated the 30th November 1934, from the Chief Secretary to the Government of Bombay, Political and Reforms Department, to the Secretary to the Government of India, Department of Industries and Labour.

Subject:- Amendment of license forms A,B,C,D,E and P appended to the Bombay Petroleum Rules.

I am directed by the Governor in Council to say that it was represented to Government some time ago that the license forms A,B,C,D,E and P appended to the Petroleum Rules in force in the Bombay Presidency did not indicate the dates of expiry of the licenses and that this omission occasionally led to bona fide mistakes on the part of licensees. It was, therefore, suggested that provision should be made in these forms to show the date of expiry of the license. The accompanying notification No.256/34, dated the 20th September 1934, purporting to amend the forms in the direction indicated was published provisionally for criticism in three consecutive issues of the Bombay Government Gazette and the Sind Official Gazette but no objections or suggestions have been received in respect thereof. I am accordingly to request that the Government of India may be moved to sanction the proposed amendment under section 9(1) of the Indian Petroleum Act, 1899.

2. Any objection or suggestion which may be received by the Chief Secretary to the Government of Bombay, Political and Reforms Department, from any person with respect to the said draft on or before the date aforesaid will be considered by the Governor in Council:-

OFFICE OF THE RESIDENT IN MYSORE.
BANGALORE.
16 JULY 1935
Regd. No. 6849
File. No. 35/45

With reference to your letter No.1528-S-I & L dated the 8th June 1935, I have the honour to state that under Section 6 of the Indian Petroleum Act, 1899 no quantity of dangerous petroleum, in excess of 3 gallons, may be kept or transported without a license. A license in Form C is a license to possess dangerous petroleum under certain conditions. Possession in a 40 gallon drum is not one of these conditions and if such a drum is brought on to the licensed premises it is a breach of condition 3 of the license. Alternatively, if the drum is not brought on to the licensed premises the licensee is in possession of and/or storing petroleum under other conditions than those laid down. The only place in which the licensee is entitled to be in possession of dangerous petroleum, in excess of three gallons, is in the storage shed - a description of which is attached to the license when granted. Condition 13 lays down conditions under which the petroleum may be drawn off and requires that the drum or other receptacle shall only be opened on the licensed premises; a forty gallon drum is not allowed on the licensed premises.

2. In connection with Form C generally, may I point out that no safety distances are required under this license and that the storage shed may even, under certain conditions, be part of another building; no restrictions as to locality are laid down. The conditions of the license were framed with this in view and it is, in my opinion, essential in the interests of public safety, that the conditions of the license be rigidly enforced. Of the conditions laid down, the size of package is one of the most important. Small staunch containers greatly minimise the risk of fire and outflow, and automatically restrict the amount drawn off at any one time. The conditions of license Form B are essential, if 40 gallon packages are to be handled.

No. P-2(93) dated the 3rd July 1935.

Copy together with a copy of the letter to which it is a reply is forwarded to all Local Governments and Administrations, except the Government of Punjab, for information with reference to this office letter No. P-2(93) dated the 16th ~~dx~~ May 1935.

Copy of a letter No.1628-S-I & L., dated the 8th June 1935, from the Secretary to Government, Punjab, Electricity and Industries Departments, Simla, to the Chief Inspector of Explosives in India, Calcutta.

I am directed to invite your attention to your letter No. P-2(93) dated the 16th of May 1935, in which you complain that the holders of Form C licenses under the Indian Petroleum Act are receiving 40 gallon drums of petrol into their godowns and decanting them into smaller containers. You claim that this practice is contrary to conditions 3 and 13 endorsed on Form C licenses. I attach herewith a copy of conditions 3 and 13 of the Form C licenses in use in the Punjab. I am uncertain in what respect you consider that this practice contravenes these conditions. Under condition 3, storage in a ~~xxxxxxx~~ receptacle containing more than 10 gallons is illegal, but for the purposes of the practice you indicate, there would not appear to be any necessity for the licensee to store 40 gallon drums at all. He could just as well decant the petrol into receptacles of the proper size immediately on receipt. The Governor in Council would be grateful if you would kindly explain in more detail how this practice can be demonstrated to be illegal.
